Welcome to Macau

Best known globally as the 'Vegas of China', the Macau Special Administrative Region is indeed a mecca of gambling and glitz. But the city is so much more than that. A Portuguese colony for almost 500 years, it is a city of blended cultures. Ancient Chinese temples sit on streets paved with traditional Portuguese tile. The sound of Cantonese fills the air on streets with Portuguese names. You can eat Chinese congee for breakfast, enjoy a Portuguese lunch of caldo verde soup and bacalhau (cod) fritters, and dine on hybrid Macanese fare such as minchi (ground beef or pork, often served over rice).

The Macau Peninsula holds the old city center, where colonial ruins sit next to arty new boutiques. Further south are the conjoined islands of Taipa, Cotai and Coloane. Taipa has gloriously preserved Macanese architecture, Cotai is home to the new megacasinos and Coloane is lined with colonial villages and pretty beaches.

Currency

Macau's currency is the pataca (MOP). Most ATMs allow you to choose between patacas and Hong Kong dollars. Credit cards are accepted at Macau's hotels, larger restaurants and casinos.

1MOP \approx 0.11EUR

1MOP \approx 0.83 CNY

1MOP \approx 0.97 HKD

1MOP \approx 0.13 USD

Foreign currency or travellers' cheques can be changed in hotels, in Macau's banks and at authorized exchange dealers, located all around the city-state.

Electricity

Visitors should also note that Macau's electricity supply is at 220V, 50Hz, which follows the system used in Hong Kong, with power plugs also following the Hong Kong style: three pinned plugs with square or round pins.

Bus	3 Click for Route
Starting Station:	Av. Amizade / Viaduto (M254)
Get-off Station:	Almeida Ribeiro / Weng Hang (M134)
Description:	After the completion of St. Paul's Church, it caught fires in 1595 and 1601 respectively. Afterwards, the Jesuits re-constructed the Church in 1602 and was completed in 1644. The re-constructed Church was massive in scale, with a grand facade full of design details. The walls are covered with bas-reliefs in various patterns, such as chrysanthemum and peony, moon, sun as well as Chinese inscriptions. The whole facade has been acknowledged as a perfect fusion of western and eastern cultures. In 1835, the Church was destroyed by fire. The facade which was left after the fire becomes the world famous monument – the Ruins of St. Paul's. At the back of the facade is the Museum of Sacred Art and Crypt.
